

CONSUMERSKETCH PRIVACY POLICY

The purpose of this Privacy Policy is to explain in simple terms how we, ConsumerSketch, obtain information from you (as a Data Subject), how we process and store that information, how it is used by other parties to promote their business interests, how you can find out what information we hold about you, and what you can do to amend the information, and your right to make a formal complaint if you are not satisfied with the treatment you have received.

ConsumerSketch specialises in the provision of consumer data for marketing and market research purposes and we are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy. We work closely with many of the UK's leading brands to help them target their offers better and help them learn more about what consumers want from their products. Our surveys provide manufacturers, retailers and service providers with the key information they need to serve you better.

As a leading data marketing company, ConsumerSketch takes the issue of personal data and privacy extremely seriously. ConsumerSketch is registered as a Data Controller with the Information Commissioner's Office, and as such your data will always be safeguarded through our adherence to the Data Protection Act 1998, and the Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations (2003), and the General Data Protection Regulations coming into force in 2018 to ensure that the information you provide to us is safe and only used for the purposes stated in our opt-in and opt-out statements and in this Privacy Policy, and to comply with our registration with the Office of the Information Commissioner. SOURCES OF INFORMATION & THE DATA WE GATHER

As a source of information and data, we carry out surveys using two methods.

The first and main method is conducting surveys in association with survey partners in the travel, holiday and leisure sectors. These are carried out by you as the data subject, self-completing hard copy (paper) surveys, as the time taken to complete is minimised; as approved by the ICO, when data subjects freely give contact channel information, an “opt-out” tick-box is also used as this is “tamper-proof” when documents are data captured and imaged.

As a secondary method, we also carry out online e-surveys, and in this instance an “opt-in” method of gaining consent is used.

CONSENT OF THE DATA SUBJECT

In accordance with GDPR EC Directive 95/46/EX, consent is defined as follows:

“Consent” of the data subject means any freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous indication of the data subject’s wishes by which he or she, by a statement or by clear affirmative action, signifies agreement to the processing of personal data relating to him or her.

All surveys are carried out, giving you, the data subject the opportunity to opt-in or opt-out as the case may be at the time of survey completion.

You can withdraw your consent at any time by contacting us, as described later in “Your Rights and Deregistration”.

WHERE WE PROCESS DATA

Data entry and data processing are carried out in our offices in Leeds. At certain times of the year, data capture services are sub-contracted to fully compliant companies, based in India and the Far East. The work that they do is partitioned in such a way that they cannot deduce any personal data about a data subject (they only data capture attributes not able to be linked to a data subject). They may also capture in isolation names and addresses, but not able to be linked to attributes or contact channel information. We insist and contract with these overseas suppliers to process information in accordance with the legislation we have previously outlined.

Data processing of the captured data is carried out in our Leeds office. This data processing may include such work as checking and verifying against our clients' reservation systems, the Postcode Address File (PAF), the edited electoral roll and other sources from time-to-time to ensure the highest level of data accuracy.

All processing of orders for the use of data, and the usage relating to data subjects is also carried out and stored in our Leeds offices.

As such, the data that we collect from you may be transferred for processing to and stored at a destination outside the European Economic Area ("EEA"). It may also be processed by staff operating outside the EEA who work for us or for one of our suppliers. However, our subcontractors will comply with EEC rules and regulations even if outside the EEA.

By submitting your personal data, you agree to this transfer, storing or processing. We will take all steps reasonably necessary to ensure that your data is treated securely and in accordance with this privacy policy. All information you provide to us is stored on secure servers.

WHERE WE STORE DATA

The principal place of data storage is at our Leeds offices. However, the backing-up of data is critical to our operations; this function may be carried out both on-site and off-site. In the latter instance, namely off-site back-up, we will use the secure facilities of a sub-contract supplier, and if those facilities are "cloud based", the physical location of such storage may be anywhere in the world.

As such, the data that we collect from you may be transferred to, and stored at, a destination outside the European Economic Area ("EEA").
